RAIN CONFUSING ALL PREDICTIONS

Fate of River Towns Now Rest in the Clouds

Ohio Passes Forty-Four Foot Stage and Will Go No Higher Unless Augmented.

CONDITION ON WATER FRONT.

Rain at this critical point in the river's stage may be the last straw before the flood stage. As all the present rise is the result of excessive rains, to have more now, especially if they are general, will make all previous estimates of the probable stage here, seem the work of novices in river forecasting. In the clouds, the extent of the high water rested, and they have decided for still larger damage and distress.

The river rose nine-tenths of a foot in the last 24 hours. For two days the rises have decreased slightly, which may be considered as an indication of less volume of water above, though the enormous territory it is necessary for a rise in the river to cover now, may easily account for the lower figures. The stage this morning was 44.3.

The government report issued from the office in Cairo yesterday shows that even those experienced observers are not altogether assured of their figures. It predicted a stage of 44.5 or 45 feet for Paducah and the end of the rise Saturday or Sunday. Neither are likely to be realized, and the former already has been distanced in part.

The plain truth is, there is no positive telling where the river will go at Paducah, and all predictions comparatively are guesses. Interviews with residents of the city in the 1884 flood reveal the fact that conditions attending the present high water are remarkably like the conditions in 1884. Then as now, a falling condition above caused the river prophets to predict a sure fall, but it never came when they predicted and the river kept on rising until it was the most fashionable mode of conveyance because the only kind.

It is not meant to assert that 1884 will be duplicated on the river here, for it would require ten feet more to do that—an apparent impossibility unless extensive and heavy rainfalls ensue. It cannot be told what effect today's rain and sleet will have on the river, until tomorrow's report is received. The steamer Kentucky coming in at 8 o'clock this morning from the Tennessee river reported that the rain started up that stream at 3 o'clock this morning. Fortunately the weather is in a state where a turn for colder is more certain than for warmer.

That Paducah is situated on an unusually advantageous point for high water is indicated when the reports show so much distress at points above and nothing more than a little inconvenience here. The rain coming down on the river flood refugees, who are camping out, will further increase their distress.

It has not been sufficiently considered in making up predictions of the probable stage here, that the falls at points above, with the single exception of Pittsburg, are insignificant. A fall above of several feet would be felt immediately here, but all the falls have been in the decimal points of a foot. There is not a house on Paducah's river front this morning from Langstaff's mill to the sand chute at Monroe street, that is not being lapped by the river.

On the north end of the Western District warehouse between Jefferson and Monroe streets, there is a painted high water mark, though the date could not be read. The river is only three feet from that mark today.

Four feet more of water will put the river in the office of the Paducah Marine Ways company, though the office is not in the higher part of the yard. To get to the dry docks, it is necessary to walk nearly a block over flats and rafts over the water on First street. The mills depending on the First street switch of the Illinois Central have that avenue of raw material closed and should rafts by river cease, as has been known to occur, some may have to quit operations.

Between 46 and 47 feet are expected in the river here.

May Abandon Shawneetown. Cairo, Ill., Jan. 25.—Should the levee give way this time under the force of the sweeping flood, it is practically conceded that no attempt would be made to rebuild Shawneetown upon its present site. With but one or two more days to pass before the final test of the government's embankment is made, citizens of the town are expecting a stage of at least 53 feet, and fear of a break has been pronounced all day. Scores have fled to the hills, where improvised tents have been pitched for the final emergency. The shipment made by Gov. Deneen has long been used by persons driven from their homes in the lowlands, and if the flood shows signs of continuance a second order will be sent in tomorrow. The gauge records a stage of 50.6 feet, a rise of over a foot since yesterday. Not a train entered today, and the river transportation has been inadequate for more than a week. But few boats attempt to land, and those that do are small craft. Relief boats were run up in the lowlands all day, and several farmers taken from their homes to higher ground.

ABATTOIRS WILL BE CONSIDERED

Butchers Granted Permission to Appear Before Board of Health Next Monday Night. Must Move Out

OTHER REFORMS ARE IN VIEW.

Slaughter houses in the city limits will play a leading part in the regular meeting of the board of health next Monday night. The butchers interested have requested permission to be present and will have an attorney to present their side of the controversy. The board of health ordered all slaughter houses to be moved outside of the city as inimical to the health of the neighborhoods in which they were situated. Speaking on the board's action, one member said:

"We have the authority to order slaughter houses outside the city and there is no sane reason why we should bend to the will of a few interested individuals, who to save trouble and some expense, would keep their slaughter houses inside the city where the residents surrounding must breathe the unhealthy odors arising. I do not mean to assert that slaughter houses in the city are improperly kept but as well as they can be kept, it is not right from a sanitary point of view, to allow them to be situated right in the midst of the city.

"Furthermore, the board has the power to do a number of other things for the city's health interest and expressing my own opinion I do not expect to stand pat on present conditions much longer."

JURORS WATCHED IN TRIAL OF THAW

New York, Jan. 25.—The greatest care is being taken to guard the Thaw jury in order to preclude a mistrial or miscarriage of justice. Never in the annals of criminal trial in this city has the jury been kept under such close watch. In order to prevent possible illness each juror will be inspected and the jurors will not be permitted to visit homes except for good cause and be then under strict guard. Five men were in the box and the work of securing a jury was resumed when the court opened this morning.

Mrs. Charles J. Holmen will not lift a finger to aid the state in the prosecution of her son-in-law, Harry K. Thaw.

When the noon recess at the Thaw trial was taken one more man was accepted as juror, making six. He is Howard Fairle, a painter.

More Tax Suits. City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., yesterday afternoon filed 34 more suits to collect delinquent taxes. This makes a total of 109 suits he has filed.

There is only one kind or a newspaper circulation statement that is worth any consideration and that is the daily detailed statement. The Sun is the only Paducah paper printing such a statement.

THIS IS PAYDAY BUT MONEY IS SHY

Aldermen Have Not Allowed Payroll of Employees

It May Be That Opinion of City Solicitor Campbell Will End Deadlock.

THE ELIGIBILITY OF ALDERMAN

This is semi-monthly payday for the police and firemen and several other city employees, but the city treasurer's office, usually the scene of great activity on such occasions, is quiet and City Treasurer Dorian is having a peaceful time.

The payroll has not been allowed, and it cannot be allowed until the board of aldermen is organized by electing a president. Everything depends on the opinion of City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., on the eligibility of Alderman Smith to vote before the board is organized and his credentials passed on. By vote of four to three last night it was settled that no more ballots for president shall be cast until Alderman Smith's qualifications are settled.

City Clerk Henry Bailey, while disclaiming any responsibility in the matter, says he will abide by the decision of the city solicitor, and if the latter says Alderman Smith may not vote Mr. Bailey will not call his name.

"I am calling the board to order and calling the roll. That is all I do," insists Mr. Bailey. "I am only clerk, not presiding officer in the full sense of the word. The mayor appointed Alderman Smith and my calling the roll, including his name, didn't amount to a determination of the question of his eligibility. I will not pass upon such questions.

"I shall not have any more all night sessions. If they do not agree in a reasonable time tonight, I shall recess until morning. I shall not entertain a motion to adjourn to the call of the mayor or on petition of a majority, because the board is not organized."

The situation is interesting, and the question of Alderman Smith's eligibility so close, that the city solicitor did not care to pass on it last night. He is studying the matter. If he decides Alderman Smith may not vote until the board is organized and his credentials accepted, that will dispose of the deadlock in short order.

Last night the three Democrats attempted to adjourn, because the Republicans were five minutes late. They met the Republicans at the door and declared they had "adjourned." As there was not a quorum they could not have convened, and not having convened, they could not adjourn. When it was made plain to them that they were not adjourning, but just walking away from the meeting, they returned.

SEARCHING FOR MOTHER.

St. Louis Woman Inquires After Whereabouts of Mrs. R. J. Mathis.

Not having received any word for 12 years of her mother, until recently she heard her mother was dead, Mrs. D. C. Dennison, of 1746 Chalmers avenue, St. Louis, has written to Mayor Yelzer making inquiries. Her mother's name is Mrs. R. J. Mathis and she has five children. One boy, Elba, the letter says, may have been drowned here. The writer thought Judge W. D. Greer, or a blacksmith, named Ellis, might know of her but Judge Greer does not. Also John Guthrie, is mentioned.

AFTER THE QUARREL

Husband Kills Wife and Then Shoots Himself.

Detroit, Jan. 25.—Peter Schief shot his wife through the heart as she lay sleeping this morning and then turned the revolver on himself and tried to put a bullet through his own heart. He failed but is dying in the hospital. He quarreled with her last night and this morning she refused to get up to prepare his breakfast. The couple have eight children.

Blizzard Raging.

St. Paul, Jan. 25.—Cold wave with the temperature ranging from 4 to 32 below zero enveloped the northwest today. A blizzard is raging in North Dakota and railroad traffic is paralyzed.

OLLIE'S LIQUOR BILL. Washington, Jan. 25.—Representative Ollie James today introduced an important liquor bill. It provides that the federal government shall not issue licenses for the sale of liquor in prohibition or local option territory.

GERMAN ELECTION

Berlin, Jan. 25.—Elections for the reichstag are taking place today all over Germany. Reports indicate the poll to be the heaviest on record. Socialists have by far the best organization, conducting operations today with great skill.

RAISULI WINS.

Tangier, Jan. 25.—Raisuli defeated the sultan's troops in a pitched battle this morning. The sultan's losses are heavy, including a colonel of cavalry and other officers and 75 men. Though decimated the famished and exhausted army is holding its position.

AFTER CHARTER.

St. Paul, Jan. 25.—In the supreme court today Attorney General Young filed suit in mandamus to compel the St. Paul, Minneapolis, Manitoba to show cause why its charter should not be forfeited. The road is a constituent of the Great Northern System.

CITIZENS AROUSED OUT PLUNKETT WAY

Council Ignored Their Petition for Repair of Jackson Street and They Say They Will Remember Slight

OVER HUNDRED SIGNED PAPER.

Residents on Jackson, Tennessee and Ohio streets and in the southwestern portion of Paducah generally, who have to pass over the fill leading from Jackson street to Plunkett's hill, are up in arms today. Repressed feeling broke out this morning in the form of condemnation of the council in totally ignoring a petition signed by 175 residents, many of them taxpayers, to have the fill graveled and made passable.

"Councilman Alonzo Crandall took our petition before the council," one declared, "He offered a motion to consider it, but met with no second. The council ignored the matter entirely, and we feel slighted. Candidates come through the railroad shops where we have hundreds of voters, asking favors. They almost grovel for votes, but their tone changes when they get into office. It will serve only to prepare us for next election day. We do not care a rap what a man's politics happens to be. Give us candidates who will make improvements where hundreds of hard working men will be benefited, and we will show you how to elect him."

IS CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT

Announcement of the arrest of James S. Nall, assistant cashier of the Mississippi Valley Banking company, at Grand Tower, Ill., on the charge of embezzlement of the bank's funds, the charges preferred by one director of the company, created great excitement in his home town, Eddyville, and friends here will receive the news with equally as much astonishment.

Nall was four years cashier of the Bank of Eddyville, where his father and mother reside. He had been at Grand Tower but one year, and was believed to be an honest and upright young man. He married Miss May Lou Dyeus, a prominent young society woman of Kuttawa, and his arrest has created gossip there.

Nall is being detained at Murphysboro, Ill., until he can make bond. His brother has gone to that city to assist him in making a $5,000 bond which he will doubtless succeed in securing. The young man often came to Paducah and has a host of friends here. His trial is set for February 1 at Murphysboro. Friends say there is absolutely nothing in the charges.

Work of Restoring Stricken City of Kingston Brings to Light Many More Corpses of Victims of Earthquake

SIR ALEXANDER SWETTENHAM, GOVERNOR OF JAMAICA.

Kingston, Jan. 25.—Every hour's work toward restoring the stricken city brings to light bodies of mutilated victims. Yesterday 40 were found. Decomposed bodies are uncovered and as the reconstruction squad expects to invade the business district today, probably more will be unearthed. Several more bodies were taken yesterday from the ruins of the famous old Spanish cathedral. Reports from outlying districts show for the most part, the damage was slight, except to the city of Kingston. Outside the city limits the loss of life was comparatively insignificant.

Mayor's Conduct Meets Approval of the First Ward Frontier Committee

Judge Cross Will Have Legal Opinion Ready Whenever They Call on Him About Bawdy Houses

FEAR OF GENERAL INVASION.

Believing that the removal of one of the bawdy house keepers from Kentucky avenue to Campbell street in the First Ward, is just a "feeler" to see if houses of that character will be tolerated in the First ward, the "Frontier Committee" at a meeting last night passed a resolution appointing the committee as a committee of the whole, to keep sharp surveillance on certain houses on Campbell and Eighth streets.

The members of the committee think that should prompt action fail to be taken now, other bawdy house keepers still in the city will follow the example and take up their residence in their wards. Cabs continue to visit houses in the district watched at night, more frequently than the railroad travel of the inhabitants would require.

Speaking of the attitude of the city officials, one member said: "We have gotten prompt action every time we have approached the mayor, and Judge Cross has shown every disposition to give us a square deal. Mayor Yelzer told us he would ask Judge Cross to look into the legal phases of our organization and he has done so and notified us two weeks ago that Judge Cross was ready to give his opinions. We ought not to wait any longer but get the opinions immediately."

Accordingly a member was appointed to visit Judge Cross this week to get his opinions on their work and report back to the committee.

SENATORIAL FIGHT IS STILL ON.

Deadlock in the Rhode Island Legislature Remains Unbroken.

Providence, R. I., Jan. 25.—Two ballots were taken for United States senator by the legislature in joint convention today, but the deadlock remained unbroken. Both votes today were identical. The result was: Goddard, 41; Colt, 38; Wetmore, 31; Utter, 1.

COAL COMING FROM JAPAN TO RELIEVE NORTHWEST.

Tacoma, Jan. 25.—Within the next 30 days several cargoes of coal will be received from Puget sound to relieve the fuel shortage existing in Tacoma and Seattle. According to advices received today the steamer Lyra sailed from Moji, Japan, Monday with 1,000 tons of coal. Other steamers will bring 6,000 tons.

Removed Chickens.

Police Commissioner Jesse Gilbert, of Mechanicsburg, is one local victim of the flood. He was forced this morning to remove his fine chickens to a place of safety. He had them housed in the rear of his drug store, and the water rose into the house. He fears to subject the fowls to the water on account of pneumonia, fatal to high bred chickens.

BOLD BANK ROBBER ATTACKS CASHIER

Beats Him Insensible With Hatchet But is Foiled

Former Marshal of Dycusburg Attempts to Loot Vault of Bank of Dycusburg.

CAPTURED HIDING IN FIELD

Dycusburg, Ky., Jan. 25.—A bold, but unsuccessful attempt to rob the Bank of Dycusburg was made yesterday at the close of banking hours, by former Marshal J. B. Gregory.

While Cashier H. Gregory was in the safe, adjusting the time lock and unconscious of any presence, the cashier was suddenly attacked from the rear with a hatchet, about 5 o'clock, and seriously wounded. The plucky cashier turned on his assailant but another blow knocked him to the floor insensible. Two men found him in this condition and their unexpected entrance frightened the robber. They gave chase, succeeded in capturing the would-be robber a short time after.

J. B. Gregory, formerly marshal at Dycusburg, came to town yesterday from the county where he lived. Towards 5 o'clock he went to the bank. Cashier H. Gregory was stooping over the safe setting the time lock. No one else was in the little building. With upraised hatchet the ex-marshal attacked the unsuspecting cashier. The hatchet struck his skull and Gregory staggered, nearly falling. Blow after blow was rained on the unfortunate banker's head, seven distinct wounds being inflicted. The cashier turned and began to desperately fight. He grappled with his assailant and succeeded in nearly overpowering him. Gregory, the cashier, fell to the floor, overcome by weakness, and when pedestrians came in, hearing the cries they found him lying in a pool of blood.

Instantly a posse was formed and a search instituted. A hatless man had been seen making for the timber, and the posse followed in that direction. The ex-marshal was found in a field several miles from town lying close against a fence. He had heard the oncoming posse and, exhausted from his rapid flight, sought to outwit them by hiding.

In town it was learned that ex-Marshal Gregory had engaged a horse and buggy to be ready at a moment's call, indicating robbery as his motive in entering the bank and attacking Cashier Gregory, who is no kin to him. Today he was taken to Marion, the county seat, to be lodged in jail. Cashier Gregory's plucky fight saved the bank from robbery. He will recover from the wounds.

THREE PUPILS

Are Taking Examination for County Diplomas.

Today examinations for county school diplomas are being held at the court house, but only three pupils are being examined. At Grahamville examinations were to have been held but no pupils appeared. It is presumed that the 19 pupils expected today will wait until the May examinations. Those being examined today are Miss Audrey Tate, Lone Oak; Lois Grubbs, White Oaks; and Lonnie Lawrence, Pleasant Grove, the latter two colored.

Such a Courteous Gentleman He Was, Too---Holding Umbrella Over Ladies

"Oh thank you," chirped the ladies, as each corner was approached by an incoming Broadway car about 7 o'clock this morning, and they perceived a courteous gentleman standing on the step with umbrella extended to cover them as they boarded the platform. The gallant seemed too embarrassed for expression, and the very diffidence of his manner won the greater appreciation from the ladies, who beamed on him with approval. He never returned their glances. He seemed wholly preoccupied with his mission, and stood grimly on the step with both hands holding to the stick of his extended umbrella.

The car stopped and a man got on. "Much obliged, old fellow," he exclaimed with surprise as he slapped the courteous gentleman on the shoulder.

"Aren't you afraid you'll break it," the newcomer remarked when he of the step still held the rain stick aloft as the car moved on.

"Can't get the thing down," was the gruff rejoinder. He got off at Twelfth street and walked the rest of the way downtown. And it was raining like everything.

WEATHER — Rain and snow this afternoon followed by clearing and much colder tonight. Saturday fair and colder. Cold wave. Highest temperature yesterday, 58; lowest today 33.

TIRED AND SICK YET MUST WORK

"Man may work from sun to sun but woman's work is never done."

In order to keep the home neat and tidy, the children well dressed and fed, women overdo and often suffer in silence, drifting along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have help to overcome the pains and aches which daily make life a burden.

It is to these women that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, comes as a blessing. When the spirits are depressed, the head and back aches, there are dragging-down pains, nervousness, sleeplessness, and reluctance to go anywhere, these are only symptoms which unless heeded, are soon followed by the worst forms of Female Complaints.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound keeps the feminine organism in a strong and healthy condition. It cures inflammation, ulceration, displacements, and organic troubles. In preparing for childbirth and to carry women safely through the Change of Life it is most efficient.

Mrs. Augustus Lyon, of East Earl, Pa., writes:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—"For a long time I suffered from female troubles and had all kinds of aches and pains in the lower part of back and sides. I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and following the advice which you gave me I feel like a new woman and I cannot praise your medicine too highly."

Mrs. Pinkham's Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Out of her vast volume of experience she probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

THEATRICAL NOTES

Louis James as Falstaff.

Coming fresh from the perusal of such of Shakespeare's plays as exhibit the sparkling treasures of his rare wit, glowing fancy and delightful satire, "The Merry Wives of Windsor" radiant in all the glow of harmless and wholesome merriment, shines forth in resplendent brilliancy as one of this master mind's greatest comedy contributions, for he has not only created a novelty in humorous construction, but has divorced his method of metric writing and given a composition purely prose.

There is probably no character in literature or the drama better known than "Fat John Falstaff" and probably no better exponent of that exacting character than Louis James, who will present it at the Kentucky theater next Monday night, January 23. "The Merry Wives of Windsor" is a masterpiece of good humor, neither lyric, dramatic, narrative nor historical, but an excellently well-conceived conceit, constructed solely to amuse, as well as to fulfill a regal edict executed by Good Queen Bess, who wishing to witness the adroit cupidity of Sir John Falstaff, commanded Shakespeare to write a comedy depicting the "Various humors attendant to the Jolly Knight of Windsor in Love."

This Shakespeare did with an abandon in construction and execution that startled his followers and admirers, for he discarded all his characteristic style and methods of playwriting and presented to his queen a play written almost entirely in prose, and illustrative of the humor and shortcomings of the country tradespeople and not the court or the nobility, as had heretofore been his custom.

"The Merry Wives of Windsor" is one of this great writer's best efforts and fairly bubbles over with brilliant characterization. "Falstaff" is undoubtedly the master comic creation of Shakespeare. His close woven and unflagging mirthfulness, together with his inexhaustible wealth of drollery, condones whatever moral shortcomings he may possess by his love for "Sack" and his flirtatious propensities for the fair sex.

As the swagger infinitely Jolly Fat Knight of Windsor, Sir John, Louis James seems to have found a more harmonious and fantastic vehicle to display his irresistible mirth-provoking faculties than has been his fortune for years, and reports speak very glowingly of his success.

"Miss Quickly" is entrusted to the competent hands of Nellie McHenry, who has been especially engaged. Master Ford will be played by Norman Hackett, who will be remembered for his excellent work with Mr. James last season. Apule James and Charlotte Lambert will be the "Merry Wives" Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Page. Lillian Lancaster, Sweet Anne Page; J. Arthur Young, Pistol; Nathan Aronson, Mr. Page; Wm. Christie Miller, Justice Shallow and other characters are said to be in as equally capable hands.

"The Merry Wives of Windsor" aside from being one of Shakespeare's most brilliant comedies, affords the scenic artist great opportunities in reproducing many of the favorite haunts of England's sovereigns, all of which Mr. James, we believe, has taken special advantage of.

The first act represents Mr. Page's home on the Windsor road, with an exact reproduction of Windsor Castle in the distance. Next there is the interior of the famous "Garter Inn," a hostelry noted for its Bohemian gatherings in the days of Good Queen Bess. Ford's house, where the celebrated "Buckbasket" episode is enacted, is a faithful reproduction made from sketches in the British Museum, and the painting by Margaret Howe of Ford's home.

The last act discloses Windsor forest, with the stately "Horne's Oak" in the foreground. Here, tradition says, at the midnight hour the fairies held sway, and in the shadow of the moon sang and danced the hour away in joyous revelry to the glinting light of the scintillating fireflies. Mr. James promises some really beautiful and realistic electrical effects here.

Considerable local interest is manifested in this engagement, from the fact that two of his most talented players are associated with Paducah, Lillian Lancaster, one of our most beautiful and talented daughters plays Sweet Anne Page with a delicacy of artistic touch that has brought forth the most eulogistic notices from the critics, all over the country.

J. Arthur Young, also well known here, is the doughty "Pistol" and reports speak very flatteringly of his success.

Hanford as Marc Antony. Charles B. Hanford has always been peculiarly successful in portraying vivacious intellectual types in the legitimate drama. His "Mercutio" in "Romeo and Juliet" his

"Benedick" in "Much Ado About Nothing," his "Petruchio" have all aroused the most admiring comment. Shading off from these more jocular characters he plays "Iago" and "Ishchimo" in a manner which arouses a certain appreciation of the mental vigor of these characters, despite their treachery. In "Marc Antony" Mr. Hanford portrays something the same cast of mind; quick and impressionable yet keen in logical deduction, but with neither merriment nor villainy as its dominant quality. He is a hero simply and complete any many critics have agreed that in this part the talents of Mr. Hanford are possibly at their best. The Hanford production of "Julius Caesar" will be seen in this city at the Kentucky on Wednesday, January 30. There is but one important feminine role in the cast and this will be assumed by Miss Marie Drofna whose performances have always commanded the highest approval.

Mansfield Outbreak.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 25.—Because he could not discipline every newspaper in the city, Richard Mansfield today did the Mansfieldian thing. It is said he informed Miss Emma Dunn, his leading woman, and J. C. Stern, his stage carpenter, that they were too ill to work for him in the future.

The critics who saw "Peer Gynt" Monday night commended with one or two words the work of Miss Dunn as "Ase," and Stern was given credit for the staging of a difficult production.

Mr. Mansfield took offense at seeing any but his own name in the criticisms. Today he even went so far as to order that the members of his company should destroy all pictures of themselves they had with them.

Miss Clara Osmond is playing "Ase." Stage carpenters are exhibiting a noticeable hesitancy in applying for the position left vacant by Stern's "illness."

Ina Lehr.

Tonight at The Kentucky Ina Lehr will present that beautiful southern play in five acts, "In Old Virginia," a story of the southland after the close of the Civil war. Miss Lehr will be seen in the role of the blind girl. It is one of her best characterizations. Mr. J. C. Williams is cast of the part of the idiotic brother, which part he handles admirably. Mr. Deupre, as the miser, Mr. Joy Applegate as Captain Richards, Miss Elizabeth Marshall, furnish the comedy part as the typical plantation mammy. The balance of the cast is in the hands of capable performers. Bargain matinee Saturday. Baby Raynor as the New York Waif.

TWENTY COFFINS.

Await Recovery of Bodies From Primero Mine.

Denver Jan. 25.—Twenty rough coffins are stacked at the entrance of the mine at Primero awaiting the bringing of the bodies of that number of miners to surface, as victims of Wednesday's explosion. Families and friends, Japanese, Greeks, Australians and other nationalities called at the opening to hear of loved ones. Four bodies were recovered. The company admits that 16 are buried in the debris. The fire did not start as feared.

Danderine

GREW MISS LEWIS' HAIR

AND WE CAN

PROVE IT

The Great Danderine Never Fails to Produce the Desired Results

MISS Lewis' hair was very thin and it was less than two feet in length when she began using Danderine. She says her hair and scalp are now fairly teeming with new life and vigor. That's the main secret of this great remedy's success as a hair grower. It enlivens, invigorates and fairly electrifies the hair glands and tissues of the scalp, causing unusual and unheard-of activity on the part of these two most important organs, resulting in a strenuous and continuous growth of the hair.

The following is a reproduction of Miss Lewis' last letter:

January 3, 1905.

Dear Doctor Knowlton:—

You know I told you in my first letter that my hair would not reach much below my shoulders, and that all of it together only made one tiny braid.

I am sending you my photograph, which I had taken at Stevens Bros. It tells the whole story better than I can tell it. Everybody I know is using Danderine, so you see I am doing something to show my appreciation.

Sincerely yours, (Miss) EVA LEWIS.

Danderine makes the scalp healthy and fertile and keeps it so. It is the greatest scalp fertilizer and therefore the greatest hair-producing remedy the world has ever known. It is a natural food and a wholesome medicine for both the hair and scalp. Even a 25c bottle of it will put more genuine life in your hair than a gallon of any other hair tonic ever made. It shows results from the very start.

NOW at all druggists in three sizes.
25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle

FREE. To show how quickly Danderine acts we will send a large sample free by return mail to any one who sends this advertisement to the Danderine Co., Chicago, with their name and address and 10 cents in silver or stamps to pay postage.

PROMOTION CARDS.

Are Being Distributed to Pupils This Afternoon.

This afternoon school children are gathered at the different buildings, receiving cards announcing the result of their first term's work. Teachers announce that the number of pupils "failing" to pass is small. The work of the first term was satisfactory generally. The weather at times interfered with pupils' attendances, but they worked hard and "caught up" in many instances. One fact gratifying to teachers is that comparatively little illness was reported the first term. Good exercise is afforded the pupils, and every convenience for the betterment of health offered.

Monday the second term will start.

WHY does one place become the right place? That is simple: Because at that place they treat people right. How? By giving good goods for the money they get. The goods we sell are good, better, best—never trash; all new stocks. You can no more afford to wear poor clothes than we can afford to sell them. If we sell poor clothes it will hurt our reputation; if you wear poor clothes it will hurt your reputation. Did you ever think about the value of what others think of you?

LEGAL OPINION
FOR UPPER BOARDOn Qualification of Alderman
Smith to Vote

Republicans Decline to Gamble Away
Their Advantage or Go "Halves"
On It.

THEY ADJOURN UNTIL TONIGHT.

Something may be doing tonight in the race for the presidency of the aldermanic board, when the board convenes at 7:30 o'clock to receive the opinion of the city solicitor regarding the qualification of Alderman Smith to vote before the board is organized and receives him in due form. When the board reconvened this morning at 8 o'clock pursuant to recess taken last night, City Clerk Bailey informed the board he had left the matter to City Solicitor Campbell and another recess was taken until tonight.

Refused to Deal.
After futile attempts on the part of the Democratic members to "split" honors and to gamble for the presidency of the board of aldermen last night, the board adjourned at 9:15 o'clock until this morning at 8 o'clock to give Clerk Henry Bailey time to consult attorneys as to his duty to pass on the qualifications of Alderman Smith, appointed by the mayor.

At 7:30 o'clock Clerk Bailey called the roll. Three Democratic aldermen, Baker, Stewart and Smith being present. The Republican members had not arrived. There being no quorum, the meeting was declared adjourned and Clerk Bailey put on his coat and went down stairs, declaring he had done his duty and that the "regular meeting" was adjourned.

The Republican members arrived at 7:35 o'clock. Clerk Bailey was prevailed upon by Democrats, and at 7:45 o'clock called the board to order, Alderman Hannan being absent.

Alderman Hubbard explained that the meeting was regular and no persons in nomination. Alderman Hannan, Democrat, and Alderman Palmer Republican, were nominated. Alderman Hank nominated Alderman Chemblin, and balloting began.

The first ballot resulted: Palmer, 3; Hannan, 3, and Chemblin, 1, the Republican members voting for each other. Eight more similar ballots were taken.

Alderman Stewart suggested in a lengthy speech that the members "split" the honors, a Republican president, to be selected by the Democrats, to serve the first six months and a Democratic president selected by Republicans, to serve the last six months. This was voted down, after an animated controversy between Mayor Yeiser and Alderman Harry Hank.

Alderman Hank stated that this method of settlement was proposed at the outset, but that the Republicans refused because the Democratic members were not all elected by the people, one being seated through "trickery."

Mayor Yeiser took it that he had been personally assailed and was rather caustic in his remarks; but the incident was closed by Alderman Hank's explanation that he did not mean the mayor.

Alderman Stewart then proposed to "flip" a dollar to decide the honors. This was refused, too, it being not provided for in parliamentary rules, and anything but dignified.

At this juncture Alderman Palmer raised the point of Alderman Smith's eligibility. When Alderman John W. Little, elected by the people, was prevailed upon to resign Mayor Yeiser appointed Mr. Smith before the board was organized, and Alderman Palmer expressed doubt whether Mr. Smith could be legally seated until the organization was effected and the mayor's appointment was ratified. He asked Clerk Bailey, as chairman of the meeting, to pass on the point.

"I declare the motion out of order," was Mr. Bailey's ruling.

Alderman Palmer insisted it was no motion, but the clerk's duty to pass on the eligibility of Mr. Smith. Bailey again declined to act, and was told that he failed to do his duty.

"Then have me impeached," was the rejoinder.

Clerk Bailey, after a conference with several party leaders, declared a recess until 8 o'clock this morning in order to consult lawyers on the point raised.

Daily Thought.

"There is no service of the real without recognition of the ideal."

THE COURAGEOUS COURSE.

There is only one deduction from last night's performance: The Republican members of the board of aldermen are a lot of "short skates." They are not "game." They are a quartette of fogies. They will neither go "halvers" with the Democrats, so that the augmented police force may be paid; nor will they gamble for the honors. One of the Democrats had a dollar in his pocket and his sporting blood prompted him to suggest tossing the coin for the presidency. Maybe, the Republicans didn't have a dollar to toss. It may have been to save themselves the humiliation of such an acknowledgment that they sat stolidly resigned to the criticism they must have known all good citizens would indulge in, if they declined to accept the gambling wager. The Democrats should come next time prepared with a deck of cards or a box of dice, and roll "horses" for the presidency. We believe, that is the way the pirates of the Barbary coast used to select their leaders. Alderman Hannan, lying at home ill in bed, must have been gratified at the manner in which his colleagues stood by him, when they couldn't induce the Republicans to choose a Democrat to serve for six months, or take a chance on "Heads, I win; tails, you lose." But, isn't it odd that the Democratic aldermen, who evinced this "eleventh hour" disposition to compromise, didn't think of a quicker way out of the deadlock—voting for Alderman Palmer for president? They might as well. Their proposition to divide the honor or to gamble it away, precludes them from further claim to any principle involved. We believe it was the wise King of Solomon, who offered to divide the baby between the disputing claimants, and then refused the suit of the woman, who agreed to the division. In this instance, the Republicans being the old members, claim the privilege of precedence. Their claim is strengthened by the fact that Alderman-elect Little was persuaded to resign and Alderman Smith was immediately appointed by Mayor Yeiser in order to hold the Democratic vote solid. Information of Little's resignation was withheld and his successor was secretly appointed and sprung on the board as a surprise before it was organized. This was politics, to be sure, and we have no criticism to make from that standpoint. But it comes with ill grace from those, who thus produced the deadlock to beg for an equal division or take a "gambler's" chance at the prize, when they are cornered. Had the administration, which absolutely dominates the Democratic side of the board, not felt "up against it," no such puerile scheme as tossing a coin would have been suggested through Alderman Stewart. It only expressed the weakness of the administration's position.

It's all right to play politics and trick the enemy if possible; but when one is "up against it," graceful acquiescence in the inevitable is the courageous course.

COUNTY ROADS.

The idea proposed by the McCracken county fiscal court to issue bonds for the permanent improvement of the county roads is setting the newspapers of other counties to talking, and without exception they favor such a plan.

The Livingston Banner says: McCracken county is going to spend $150,000 in improving her roads. The result will be that she will make it all back, too, within two years after the work is completed. Good roads have never yet failed to pay immense dividends to every man, rich and poor, in the various communities where they are found.

The Livingston Echo chimes in the chorus in the same issue with:

The people of McCracken county are discussing a plan for bettering their public roads. The plan most generally suggested is to have them gravelled. McCracken county now boasts of having the best roads in the western part of the state, yet is not satisfied. It is argued that gravel roads are cheapest, being more easily kept up, and are always far better. Next week the farmers' club meets here at Smithland, and the principal subject for discussion is roads. There are other subjects for discussion, but nearly every farmer believes he knows as much about them as any other farmer, but all are ready to listen to the road discussion. Our roads are in a deplorable condition, made so by so much rain during the fall and winter, and also by our system of working or not working them. There is surely a better way to treat our roads.

If Livingston county does not have good roads evidently it is not the fault of the papers; but we would that they would always employ the adjective "permanent" to define the noun improvement. We believe there is potency in that word and then it adds certainty to the meaning of the plan.

It rarely becomes Democratic aldermen in a city some six hundred Democratic, who were elected by an average vote of 80 majority to talk about public repudiation of the Republicans. There was on in addition to the usual Democratic majority to fall back on, a state Democratic primary, in which candidates for United States senator and governor were being chosen, to call out the Democrats. The saloon vote was solidly Democratic, because the Republican boards had refused to renew licenses of disorderly places, and the Democratic general council is expected to grant these licenses in payment for its election. Since Alderman Stewart called up the reason the Democratic aldermanic ticket was elected last fall, we will hazard the prediction that Alderman Stewart will vote for the reinstatement of every saloon, whose license was taken away by the Republican board, at the behest of complaining citizens and ministers of the gospel.

It is reported that the Jamaica earthquake caused a reduction of 45 per cent in the output of southern Texas petroleum and an increase of 100 per cent in the northern field. If the Standard Oil Company, after having extracted all the substance from the inhabitants of the earth, is "shaking down" old mother Earth herself for her riches, then indeed is our case hopeless.

A Cincinnati dispatch to the Chicago papers voices the opinion that Prof. Oldrieve, the water walker, is drowned, because nothing has been heard of him since he left Evansville, Ind. That's pretty tough on the Memphis papers.

SUNFLOWER PHILOSOPHY.

A fain man always likes to get weighed with his overcoat on.

No man goes to a banquet for the sake of the speeches he will hear.

The average boys idea of a good breakfast is an awful jolt to all the Rules of Health.

There wouldn't be so many marriages, if it were not for the mother.

A woman is certainly good looking if she shows up looking well at the breakfast table.

Some people are always either feeling "pretty bad," or "just a little better."

The most sincere person in the world does not mean it when he says: "I don't care."

While a man is still very young he finds that the people regard him as old enough to find all his happiness in giving happiness to others.

Somehow it is hard to realize that the tired and worn out father was once so young and so audacious that he dared to hope for happiness for himself.—Atchison Globe.

BACHELORS

WILL BE TAXED TO SUPPORT STATE OF ILLINOIS.

"Act to Encourage Matrimony" Introduced in Legislature at Springfield.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 25.—Bachelors whom bashfulness has kept them single are to be driven to the marriage altar, while those who are unannexed through choice are to pay for sidestepping hymeneal joys—if Representative Anton J. Cermak, of Chicago, has his way. Under the caption, "An Act to Encourage Matrimony," Mr. Cermak—who, by the way, hails from the west side, where a family does not come up to grade unless it contains at least half a dozen children—has condensed into legislative language his ideas on single blessedness.

A fine of $5 a year is about the right penalty, he thinks, but as the bill he intends to present to the general assembly is still unperfected, the amount may be raised to the point where it may be cheaper to marry than to pay taxes.

The Cermak anti-celibacy bill in its rough draft specifies that in making the annual rounds the assessors shall jot down the names of every man unattached. The names are to be listed in a poll book and against each is to be extended a tax of $5.

If the celibate can prove, however, that he is not only unable to maintain a wife if he were married, but is also unable to support himself and pay the tax, the fine is to be remitted.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO WAIT. Every dose makes you feel better. Lax-Fos keeps your whole system right. Sold on the money-back plan everywhere. Price 50 cents.

NATURE AS A RECONSTRUCTOR.

"Nature repairs her ravages—repairs them with her sunshine and with human labor."

Osteopathy is one of Nature's most used instruments in repairing her ravages. Take the Osteopathic treatment of headaches. It locates the primary cause and removes it, not in administering a common known sedative to on- and all alike, but by a simple mechanical manipulation.

So, in digestive disorders Osteopathy restores the nervous equilibrium to the stomach, bowels, liver, pancreas, etc., and a unity of action established the disorders are readily controlled and cured.

Constipation can be cured only by observing nature's laws. The regular movements of the bowels depend on their nerve and blood supply. If one or the other is disturbed in any way there is disorder—sickness. Osteopathy here again is Nature's cure. I should like to tell you personally at any time of the great success I am having with the treatment and refer you to some of your friends who will eagerly attest to what Osteopathy is doing or has done for them. Phone me at 1467 at any time.

INCREASE IN PAY IN POSTOFFICES

Will Affect Number of Local Employees

Twelve Carriers, Nine Clerks and Ten Railway Postal Clerks Will Be Benefited.

BILL WILL BE INTRODUCED.

Twelve local mail carriers, nine local postoffice clerks and ten mail clerks running on trains into Paducah will be affected by an increase in salary when the appropriation bill is passed at Washington. It will mean that thousands of dollars increase in salaries will be made here. The following Washington dispatch explains:

Postoffice clerks will be liberally dealt with in the new appropriation bill, which will be reported from the postoffice committee within a few days. Clerks in first-class postoffices in towns of from 25,000 to 75,000 population will be advanced according to classification, from $600 to $1,200 each. Railway mail clerks, who have had to bear not only the burden of the additional cost of living, but risk of accident, will receive $100 more in each grade after a year's service.

Carriers are also liberally provided for. Those in cities with a population between 25,000 and 75,000, from $600 to $1,000. The increase will entail an annual expenditure on the part of the government of $5,000,000. It is also believed that before the bill is reported it will carry an increase for rural free delivery carriers.

Fred B. Ashton, superintendent of carriers of the local postoffice department, explained:

There are ten postal clerks running into Paducah on trains who will receive a raise. The minimum is $800, and according to the length of service they will be paid. Some will receive $900, some $1,000 and others the limit, $1,100. There are twelve carriers who now get $850 at the lowest. They will be paid according to the length of service. Nine clerks in the postoffice here who are paid from $600 to $1,000, will also receive an increase on the same scale, the new bill providing the maximum $1,200 against $1,100 at present.

NEGRO TROOPERS

Are Enlisted by Lieut. W. L. Reed at This Station.

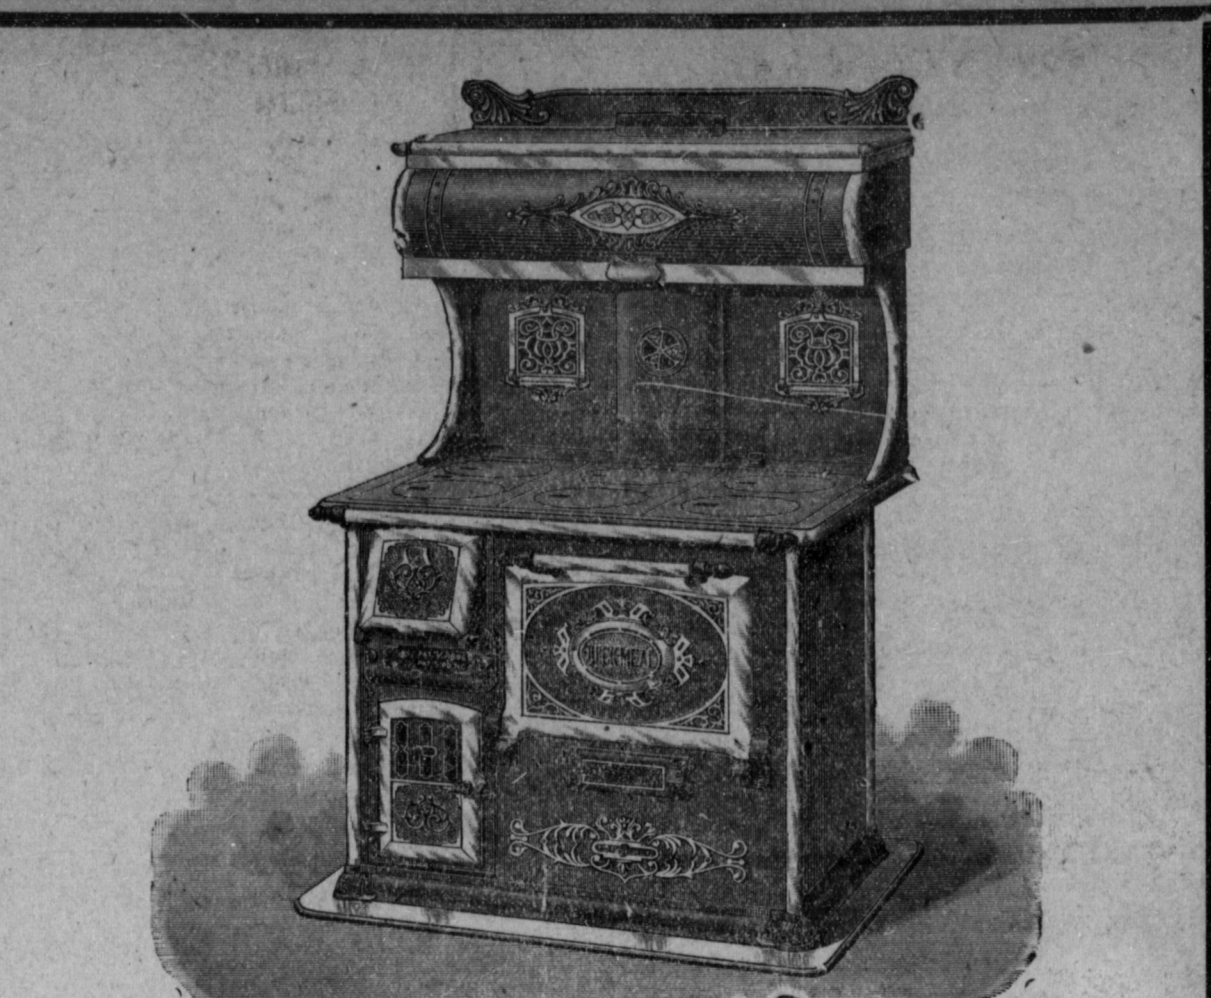

Following the exclusive announcement in THE SUN that negro troops would be enlisted at the local army recruiting station, Sergeant Blake has received three applications from negroes and one probably will be accepted later. The order giving permission to recruiting officers to enlist for the Philippine service has been followed by Sergeant Blake and three men will leave tomorrow evening for that service. Lieut. W. L. Reed accepted seven men enlisted by Sergeant Blake this morning. One, Nevil Hobson, Cerulean Springs, Ky., will go to the hospital corps at Washington, D. C. Three, Herman Martin, Dycusburg; Samuel Jones, Hickory Grove; J. T. Watson, 1110 Tennessee street, Paducah, will go to the coast artillery. The last three, Sylvester Lawrence, Karbes Ridge, Ill.; Benjamin Stone, Kuttawa, and J. D. Brady, with three years previous service, of Mount City, Ill., will go to the Philippines.

LYNCHED AT VARDAMAN'S HOME

Jackson, Miss., Jan. 25.—Information was received here today that Henry Bell, a negro, was lynched at Greenwood, the home of Governor Vardaman, last night. The negro attacked Mrs. Graves, of that place, some months ago, and had been in jail in another town for safe keeping. Last night he arrived at Greenwood in charge of a deputy sheriff and while that official was taking him from the train to the jail he was surrounded by a mob, which took him away and hanged him to a railroad bridge.

Long Live the King!

Is the popular cry throughout European countries; while in America, the cry of the present day is "Long live Dr. King's New Discovery, King of Throat and Lung Remedies!" of which Mrs. Julia Ryder Paine, Truro, Mass., says: "It never fails to give immediate relief and to quickly cure a cough or cold." Mrs. Paine's opinion is shared by a majority of the inhabitants of this country. GRAVE CHARGE

PREFERRED AGAINST L. VEAL, FORMERLY RURAL CARRIER.

Held Over to Grand Jury at Instance of Postoffice Inspector by the Commissioner.

Luby Veal, 22 years old, son of Gus Veal, salesman for the McCracken County Dark Tobacco Growers' association, is out on bond pending action of the federal grand jury on the charge of embezzling $10.35 from residents on a rural route in Calloway county in September and November. W. A. Martin, the well known tobacco dealer, furnished a $200 bond to Commissioner W. A. Gardner, which released the youthful prisoner.

Last fall Luby Veal resided in Murray and was carrier of a rural mail route. He was arrested at the instance of Postoffice Inspector R. M. C. Hasford, of Cincinnati, who investigated the alleged embezzlement. Veal is charged with accepting $8.50 in September from one resident, and $1.85 from another in November with which to purchase money orders. It is charged he failed to follow directions, keeping the money.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

Almost everybody knows that license should be paid in January; yet some people seem to forget it. This is intended as a friendly reminder FOR YOUR GOOD.

Ten per cent must be added to all license after February 1st. Naturally this is not a pleasant obligation to settle. It is also an unpleasant duty for the treasurer to collect it. Therefore endeavor to avoid it by your prompt attention.

Every business, occupation, agency and profession is liable for a license. Kindly call at the city treasurer's office at your earliest convenience that you may save this penalty, and greatly oblige.

Yours respectfully,
JOHN J. DORIAN,
City Treasurer.

stance of Postoffice Inspector R. M. C. Hasford, of Cincinnati, who investigated the alleged embezzlement. Veal is charged with accepting $8.50 in September from one resident, and $1.85 from another in November with which to purchase money orders. It is charged he failed to follow directions, keeping the money.

Luby Veal is a brother of Rufe Veal, connected with the Dark Tobacco Growers' association, and is a well known young man, having lived here for sixteen years. His reputation is excellent and that will go far in his favor. His friends insist on his innocence.

ARRESTED WOMAN AND LET ROBBERS ESCAPE

Chicago, Jan. 25.—Drugged and then assaulted by six negroes, Mrs.

Martha Heisen, 2526 Calumet avenue, was promptly arrested by the ever watchful police. The negroes were allowed to escape. The story came to light yesterday, when Mrs. Heisen was haled into Municipal Judge Newcomer's court at the Harrison street police station. Within a few minutes after the pale and trembling prisoner was arraigned Judge Newcomer had sent for Inspector Wheeler and had ordered the south town searched for the negroes guilty of the attack. The story of Mrs. Heisen, who claims she is the divorced wife of Ernest F. Heisen, one time agent of the Manhattan office building, created a sensation in the courtroom. Angry protests came from spectators who listened to the recital, and on every hand there was whispered denunciation of the police.

Must Move Dump.

The checker game in which Riverside hospital directors, residents in the vicinity of Third and Clay streets, Ghent & Elliott, contractors for the city garbage dump, and Police Judge D. A. Cross with the board of health have been engaged, was made prominent in police court this morning for the second time, and it is now up to Ghent & Elliott to "move again."

Ghent & Elliott moved to the foot of Clay street. Garbage was dumped in still water. George Robertson swore out a warrant, and the board of health instructed the contractors to remove further down, and furnishing a 500 foot cable, directed them to dump outside the Illinois Central river front trestle. It is claimed they are not doing this, and Police Judge Cross held an investigation this morning.

"I want to say this as a warning," he announced. "This time I will not take action, but if any man is caught dumping garbage this side of the trestle I will issue a warrant and fine him."

PEOPLE AND SOCIAL EVENTS

Dinner Party for Miss Davis and Mr. Bringham.

Miss Julia Scott, of 725 Madison street, will entertain with a dinner this evening in honor of her cousin Mr. Edward Bringham and his fiancée Miss Martha Davis. Mrs. William S. Booten, of Denver, Col., a sister of Mr. Bringham, will be a guest of honor. Only members of the two families will be included.

Charity Club's Bazaar.

There will be every style of aprons, from the smart set trifle to the "real thing" worn by the work-a-day world, on display tomorrow, all day, at the Charity club's Apron Bazaar, in the I. C. ticket office under the Palmer house. Every one is cordially invited to give a liberal patronage to the bazaar for the sake of the cause. The present weather will increase greatly the need for funds.

Home-made candy and fudge will be another attractive feature of the bazaar and charming girls will act as saleswomen.

Public Fountain Interests Many.

Mrs. E. G. Boone, regent of the Paducah chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, has received a cordial letter from Mr. Calvin Hendrick of Baltimore, Maryland, enclosing a check for $10 for the Public Fountain to be erected by the chapter in the custom house yard. Mr. Hendrick is a former Paducah boy who is now in charge of the entire sewerage system of the city of Baltimore, and is a civil engineer of prominence.

The chapter held a called meeting this morning with Mrs. Boone to discuss some details of the flower carnival to be given April 5 for the fountain. Much enthusiasm is being manifested in the carnival which will be a beautiful event. There will be 200 persons in the various dances, tableaux and other features.

Missionary Society Meets.

The Junior Warden Missionary society of the Broadway Methodist church will meet Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Miss Adine Morton of 612 Broadway.

Entre Nous Club.

Miss Retta Hatfield of North Seventh street is hostess to the Entre Nous club this afternoon.

Dance at Hotel Craig.

There will be a dance at the Hotel Craig this evening given by the guests of the house to their friends. It is one of the regular series of dances this winter.

Carpe Diem Club.

The Carpe Diem club was pleasantly entertained last evening by Miss Maggie Lydon at her home on South Tenth street. Only the club members were present.

Bridge Whist Class.

The Bridge Whist class meets this afternoon with Mrs. Henry Thompson of South Sixth street. There are 12 members.

Entertainment Tonight.

The Church Furnishing society of the First Christian church will have a musical and literary entertainment tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Bondurant on North Sixth street. An attractive program will be rendered.

Entertained at Cards.

Miss Ruth Benson entertained at cards Wednesday evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. B. C. Culom, 913 Trimble street.

Kalosophic Club.

The Kalosophic club held a most interesting meeting this morning. Miss Marjory Scott was the hostess. "Current Topics" was comprehensively discussed by Miss Mary Boling in opening.

"The Origin and Development of the Greek Drama" was ably handled by Miss Ethel Brooks.

Under "Greek Tragedy" Miss Belle Cave interestingly featured the works of Eschylus, Sophocles and Euripides.

The club will meet Fridays during February with Miss Elizabeth Sinnott of North Ninth street.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. B. Boland, of Mechanicsburg, a daughter.

Miss Lillie Radford, daughter of J. W. Radford, of South Eleventh street, is recovering from an operation.

IN THE COURTS

Circuit Court.

J. B. F. Briggs against Fletcher & Foreman, judgment for plaintiff for $600 due on timber contract.

J. B. F. Briggs against the Sherill-King Mill and Lumber company, dismissed without prejudice.

E. Rehkopf against Starks-Ullman Saddlery company, bankruptcy of plaintiff suggested and case continued.

Commonwealth against Perry Bryant, $200 bond forfeiture, judgment of sale of property.

Ollie Catlett, colored, malicious shooting, allowed to plead guilty of shooting in sudden heat and passion, fined $100.

James Glauber against W. A. Hogan, suit filed to secure $16 on account, and attachment asked for.

H. L. Steyers against W. A. McClure, suit for $5,000 in a contract, verdict for defendant.

Attorney J. S. Ross, of the firm of Crice & Ross, is expected back today from Cincinnati where he went to file papers in the federal circuit court of appeals in the E. Rehkopf, individual, bankrupt matter. The district judge, Walter Evans, of Louisville, adjudicated Rehkopf a bankrupt, but his attorneys will fight it to the highest courts.

Attorney D. G. Park went to Mayfield today to take depositions.

Attorney Hal S. Corbett went to Frankfort this morning on professional business.

In County Court.

The will of Thomas Thompson, known as Tom Emery, colored, was filed for probate yesterday. It is dated August 31, 1898, and leaves all his estate, personal and real to his wife, who is named executrix.

Susan Collins against Annie Townsend, suit for the division of a piece of property owned jointly by both parties.

Deeds Filed.

George Bernard to Mary Drenin, property in Mechanicsburg, $135.

Police Court.

Joe Kelley was presented in police court this morning for alleged box car breaking, and his case was continued until January 30. He was arrested yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock by Special Agent Dick Tolbert, of the Illinois Central. Tolbert found four quarts of whisky, the same brand as stolen out of a broken seal box car, in Kelley's locker in the south yards. Kelley claimed he found the liquor. The box car entered was robbed of two cases of 12 bottles each.

Will Senter was held over for suffering gaming. He had a wheel with paddles, numbered consecutively from 1 to 12. He sold chances for five cents each. The one selecting the lucky number after the wheel is turned gets a box of candy, and the others nothing. Judge Cross held this gambling. Senter operated in the pure food exhibit, and this is the first prosecution for games of this kind.

Other cases: J. E. English and J. Grant, for using insulting language toward each other, $3 and costs each; Jessie Wilson, breach of peace, dismissed; Ed Burgess, colored, insulting language, dismissed.

COAL FAMINE IS MORE ACUTE

Many Towns in North Dakota Appeal in Vain for Fuel.

Minneapolis, Jan. 25.—Daily reports are coming from North Dakota telling of the exhaustion of fuel. The railroads have failed to supply many of the towns and the coal problem is again assuming great seriousness. Lawton, N. D., reports all fuel of every description exhausted, and says it must have relief immediately. The Great Northern's Oriental limited has arrived after being twice snowed under on the way from the Pacific coast. The passengers adopted a vote of thanks to the members of the train crew for their heroic work.

Levee Is Holding.

A message from Shawneetown today stated that the levee is holding, but people are leaving the town.

The Rev. and Mrs. T. H. Stuart and Dr. D. T. Stuart will go to St. Louis tonight, preparatory to sailing for China.

Mr. J. W. Farmer, the tobacco man, went to Murray this morning on business.

Mr. Ed Smith, the Illinois Central blacksmith, has returned after a visit at Paris, Tenn.

Mr. H. R. Safford, first assistant principal engineer of the Illinois Central, passed through the city last night en route to Memphis from Nashville.

Mr. Jamie Paxton has returned from Clarksville.

Mr. Jesse Moss, the lawyer, will go to New York tonight and from there will sail for South America.

THERE WAS NO HOG

But Prisoner Is Said to Have Gotten $10 For It.

Jodie Robertson, colored, is in jail pending trial on a charge that would make a gold brick swindler turn green with envy. The gold brick swindler gives something for the money he takes, but Jodie, it is charged, got ten big "bucks" for nothing.

The negro resides on the Cairo road, and it is charged sold Henry Sparks a hog for $10 which was supposed to be at the home of John Grubbs, also of the Cairo road. After waiting three weeks for the swine to fatten Sparks went for him. He was informed that Robertson had no hog there, and never did have. Sparks swore out a warrant before Magistrate C. W. Emery and Constable Shelton last night brought the prisoner to jail, charged with obtaining money by false pretenses. The trial is set for tomorrow at 10 o'clock.

COUNTING BEANS IN JAR

TRYING TO WIN RANGE.

Infinitely amusing are the methods employed by the visitors to the Pure Food exposition, at 426 Broadway, to count the number of beans in the jar at the Paducah Light and Power company's booth. The person who guesses the correct number of beans in the jar or approximately the correct number, will receive a gas range free. Some of the visitors measure the jar on every side and try by a mathematical calculation to estimate the number of beans in the jar, while others count the number of beans in a row up and down and across the jar.

ALL KINDS OF WEATHER FOR PADUCAH THIS YEAR

Paducah is entertaining a call from old Boreas today and from warm and cloudy late last night, to chill and rain this morning, and thence, via, sleet, to cold and snow this afternoon, the wayward month of January is taking its way. It is snowing hard, has been all day, and the snow sticks, where the sleet made ice on the pavements early in the day. The Paducah Traction company will use snow plows all night, as the wind is beginning to drift the snow.

The temperature at 2 o'clock was 23 degrees above zero.

Dandelion

REMOVES THE CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

A healthy kidney is a filter. The blood goes in at one end of the kidney full of poisonous and waste material. It comes out from the other end perfectly pure. Like all filters the kidneys get out of order. The trouble is only slight at first, but rapidly becomes dangerous if neglected, because the kidneys become choked with refuse and the result is a leaking filter, full of holes and ulcers, with the natural consequence that the whole system becomes poisoned and the blood contaminated with uric acid. Dr. Edward's Compound Dandelion Tablets act directly upon the kidneys and remove the cause of the trouble. In other words they repair the leaking filter and make it clean and healthy. NEWS OF KENTUCKY

New Case of Smallpox.

Smithland, Ky., Jan. 25.—A report Tuesday from Panhandle stated that Webb Threlkeld, son of Bob Threlkeld, in the Panhandle, had developed a case of smallpox, though the attending physician, Dr. LaRue, says it is of a mild form and it will go very light with the patient. C. H. Lemmon, who was reported last week as having the smallpox, is improving and will soon be out again. No other cases have been reported from this one.

Association Wins.

Henderson, Ky., Jan. 25.—The Stemming District Tobacco association in the circuit court yesterday before Judge Henson, secured a temporary injunction, which was later made perpetual, restraining Nick Ashby, a farmer, from selling his tobacco to any one but the association, according to agreement. The suit was filed against Ashby when he attempted to sell his tobacco to another dealer other than the Equity warehouse.

Steam Ferry.

Smithland, Ky., Jan. 25.—Mayor Williamson and some of our other enterprising business men are figuring on a plan for securing a splendid steam ferry for this place, says the Golconda Herald-Enterprise, — one that will meet every demand and give our Kentucky friends a safe, sure and comfortable means of crossing to this side every day in the year. The idea is to have a boat to make regular schedule trips and to have a boat large enough to handle all the business that may come to it, people, teams, stock and all.

Railroad Is Warned.

Cadiz, Ky., Jan. 25.—Under the door of the Cadiz depot yesterday morning was found two notes, one to Mr. W. C. White, president of the Cadiz railroad, stating that it was reported that Mr. Jesse M. Vinson was going to bring some tobacco here for shipment to Hopkinsville and warning him not to haul it out over his road, as it would not be safe for him to do so, etc. The other one was addressed to Dick Mitchell and Jabe

DR. BOYD INCENSED OVER CONDITIONS

Says Hospital Patients Must Suffer From Garbage Dump

Thrown Within One Hundred and Fifty Feet of the Riverside Building.

PRACTICABLE PLAN ADVANCED

It was a spirited interview yesterday afternoon between Dr. Frank Boyd, president of Riverside hospital board, and Health Officer Dr. W. T. Graves, in the latter's office. High water, which is back of so much inconvenience now, was the cause of the interview, and the trouble has arisen over the disposition of the city's garbage.

Dr. Boyd said that the garbage was being dumped in the river only 150 feet from the hospital at the peril of the health of the 20 or 30 patients in the hospital.

"We have applied to the board of health and we have applied to the health officer and have found no relief from either. The conditions allowed by the board of health are intolerable and I mean to stop the dumping of the garbage so close to the hospital if I have to get out an injunction against the board of health. It will be stopped by tomorrow night, too," was Dr. Boyd's closing remark.

The river is so high now that the flat boat cannot be gotten under the railroad trestle and the scavenger men were dumping their refuse in the river on this side of the trestle, in an unhealthful proximity to the hospital. Last year the same course was followed and it was necessary to have the settled refuse covered up after the river went down. It was the memory of this that aroused Dr. Boyd to action when he saw where they were dumping the refuse.

Sanitary Inspector R. F. Barnett was present at the interview and corroborated Dr. Boyd's statement that the scavenger men were dumping near the hospital and said he had just come from there to report to the health officer.

Dr. Boyd suggested that he be sent to the dump immediately to order the dumping stopped, but Health Officer Graves said he did not think Elliott and Ghent should be disturbed in their contract, and that they had telephoned him that day that they were carrying out the contract.

"The contract," exclaimed Dr. Boyd, "what should a contract count when 20 or 30 sick persons are suffering from the intolerable conditions? As health officer you have the power to stop this nuisance and if you don't do so I shall."

Dr. Boyd had been to a member of the board of health before coming to Health Officer Graves, but he said nobody could be found who would take energetic and salutary action for the safety of the hospital patients.

TO BREAK UP A COLD IN 24 HOURS AND CURE ANY COUGH THAT IS CURABLE

Mix one-half ounce of the Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure) with two ounces of Glycerine and half a pint of good Whisky. Shake well and use in teaspoonful doses every four hours.

Dr. Leach, the famous throat and lung specialist, who established a camp for consumptives in the Pine Woods of Maine, and whose wonderful cures there have attracted the attention of the civilized world, declares that the above formula will strengthen weak lungs, relieve the cough, heal the bronchial tubes, and cure any case of lung trouble that is not too far advanced, providing the patient will assist by taking plenty of outdoor exercise, inhaling long deep breaths every few minutes.

It is said the mixture will break up an ordinary cold in twenty-four hours, and, being free from opiates and drugs, is far preferable for use among children to the ordinary cough mixtures.

The ingredients can be secured from any good prescription drug list at small cost and easily prepared in your own home.

Inquiry at the prescription department of one of our leading druggists elicited the information that Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure) is put up only in half-ounce vials securely sealed in a round wooden case, with engraved wrapper, showing the name—"Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure)"—plainly printed thereon. There are many rank imitations of Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), which are being put out under various names, such as concentrated Oil of Pine, Pine Balsam, etc. Never accept these as a substitute for the Pure Virgin Oil of Pine, as they will invariably produce nausea, and never effect the desired results.

A local physician who is familiar with the treatment used by Dr. Leach in his camp in the Pine Woods, says it is undoubtedly the most effective known to medical science at the present time and save for the open air life in the forest would prove just as effective if used in the home. He says the formula given above is the one used by Dr. Leach and that it has the unqualified endorsement of the leading physicians of the country.

The physician added, if this formula was known and used generally by the people, throat, lung, and bronchial affections would rarely reach an acute stage.

The Pure Virgin Oil of Pine is also a perfect neutralizing agent for uric acid. A few drops taken on sugar night and morning will heal and regulate the kidneys and relieve the most obstinate case of rheumatism if caused by uric acid in the system.

Do You Think a Man Could so Closely Resemble Another

That he could take the other's place and deceive even the other man's wife? If you don't, you should read The Masquerader, which will start Monday in The Sun.

One of the Most Interesting Tales in Fiction

The Masquerader was rated as one of the most popular and interesting stories of recent years, when it was published only two years ago.

Writing to The Blackwood Magazine, the oldest magazine in England, while the story was appearing serially in that publication a contributor said:

"Never since I waited feverishly, sixty years ago, for 'Monte Cristo' have I been so excited by a story. And Mrs. Thurston has given me what Dumas did not—a perpetually increasing wonder as to how the adventure would end."

You will be just as excited. The story will start in The Sun Monday. If you are not a subscriber order the paper now. Phone 358.

with a suggestion that seems practicable. He suggests that the main sewer be tapped near the pumping station on Clay street, with a hole large enough to allow the scavenger men to drop their refuse into it, and that the strong current in the sewer there, would carry the refuse out into the river along with similar refuse from the sewer system. A shed could be built over the hole leading down to the sewer, and the wagons could drive in and dump their refuse right down into the sewer. The sewer is two feet in diameter at that point. Care could be taken that only a certain kind of refuse would be dumped into the sewer and the present method of having a flat boat at the river with the cost of an attendant at $30 a month, would be eliminated.

the arrival of the Joe Fowler Saturday. The Kentucky will go to Brookport today to unload the lumber and leave here tomorrow evening for the Tennessee river.

Official Forecast.

The Ohio, at Evansville, will come to a stand within the next 12 hours at about 46.3 or 46.4 feet, then fall. At Mt. Vernon, will continue rising during the next 24 hours, come to a stand at about 48.2 feet, then fall. The rise will continue at Paducah and Cairo until next Saturday night or Sunday, 44.5 to 45 feet is indicated for Paducah and 49.5 to 50 feet at Cairo.

The Tennessee from Florence to the mouth, no material change.

The Mississippi at Chester, will fall Friday. At Cape Girardeau will continue rising during the next 12 to 24 hours, and reach a maximum stage of about 29.1 or 29.2 feet.

The Wabash at Mt. Carmel, will probably continue rising during the next two days, and reach a maximum stage slightly above 24 feet.

Is Disease a Crime?

Not very long ago, a popular magazine published an editorial article in which the writer asserted, in substance, that all disease should be regarded as criminal. Certain it is, that much of the sickness and suffering of mankind is due to the violation of certain of Nature's laws. But to say that all sickness should be regarded as criminal, must appeal to every reasonable individual as radically wrong.

It would be harsh, unsympathetic, cruel, yes criminal, to condemn the poor, weak, over-worked housewife who sinks under the heavy load of household cares and burdens, and suffers from weaknesses, various displacements of pelvic organs and other derangements peculiar to her sex.

Frequent bearing of children, with its exacting demands upon the system, coupled with the care, worry and labor of rearing a large family, is often the cause of weaknesses, derangements and ability which are aggravated by the many household cares, and the hard, and never-ending work which the mother is called upon to perform. Dr. Pierce's "Prescription" is a world-famed remedy for woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments. Dr. Pierce's "Prescription" says that one of the greatest obstacles to the cure of this class of malady is the fact that the poor, over-worked housewife can not get the needed rest from her many household cares and labor to enable her to secure from the use of his "Prescription" its full benefits. It is a matter of frequent experience, he says, in his extensive practice in these cases, to meet with those in which his treatment fails by reason of the patient's inability to abstain from hard work long enough to be cured. With those suffering from prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion of the uterus or other displacement of the woman's organs, it is very necessary that, in addition to taking his "Favorite Prescription," they abstain from being very much, or for long periods, on their feet. All heavy lifting or straining of any kind should be avoided. As much out-door air as possible, with moderate, light exercise is also very important. Let the patient observe these rules and the "Favorite Prescription" will do the rest.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. W. C. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound. If sick consult the Doctor, free of charge by letter. All such communications are held sacredly confidential.

CHAPTER XXV.

THE Iroquois had not treated De Catnat harshly when they dragged him from the water into their canoe. So incomprehensible was it to them why any man should voluntarily leave a place of safety in order to put himself in their power that they could only set it down to madness, a madness which inspires love and respect among the Indians. Two warriors passed their hands over him to be sure that he was unarmed, and he was then thrust down between the two women, while the canoe darted in toward the bank to tell the others that the garrison of Fort St. Louis was coming up the stream. Adele was deadly pale, and her hand, as her husband laid his upon it, was as cold as marble.

"My darling," he whispered, "tell me that all is well with you—that you are unhurt!"

"Oh, Amory, why did you come? Why did you come, Amory?" "How could I stay behind when I knew that you were in their hands? We have gone through so much together that we cannot part now. What is death, Adele? Why should we be afraid of it?"

"I am not afraid of it." "And I am not afraid of it. Things will come about as God wills, and what He wills must in the end be the best."

"Tell me, monsieur," said Onega, "is my lord still living?"

"Yes, he is alive and well." "It is good. He is a great chief, and I have never been sorry, not even now, that I have wedded with one who was not of my own people. But, ah, my son! Who shall give my son back to me? Ere that sun shines again we shall all be dead, and my heart is glad, for I shall see my boy once more."

The Iroquois paddlers had bent to their work until a good ten miles lay between them and Ste. Marie. Then they ran the canoe into a little creek upon their own side of the river and sprang out of her, dragging the prisoners after them. Then, after a short council, they started through the forest, walking in single file, with their three prisoners in the middle. There were fifteen warriors in all, eight in front and seven behind, all armed with muskets and as swift footed as deer, so that escape was out of the question. They could but follow on and wait in patience for whatever might befall them.

All day they pursued their dreary march. Onega had the endurance of the Indians themselves, but Adele, in spite of her former journeys, was foot-sore and weary before evening. It was a relief to De Catnat, therefore, when the red glow of a great fire beat suddenly through the tree trunks and they came upon an Indian camp in which was assembled the greater part of the war party which had been driven from Ste. Marie. Here, too, were a number of the squaws who had come from the Shawnee and Cayuga villages in order to be nearer to the warriors. Wigwags had been erected all round in a circle, and before each of them were the kettles, slung upon a tripod of sticks, in which the evening meal was being cooked. In the center of all was a very fierce fire, which had been made of brushwood placed in a circle so as to have a clear space of twelve feet in the middle. A pole stood up in the center of this clearing, and something all mottled with red and black was tied up against it. De Catnat stepped swiftly in front of Adele that she might not see the dreadful thing.

"They have begun already, then," said Onega composedly. "Well, it will be our turn next, and we shall show them that we know how to die."

"They have not ill used us yet," said De Catnat. "Perhaps they will keep us for ransom or exchange." The Indian woman shook her head. "Do not deceive yourself by any such hope," said she. "When they are as hungry as they have been with you it is ever a sign that you are reserved for the torture. Your wife will be married to one of their chiefs, but you and I must die."

"Married to an Iroquois!" Those dreadful words shot a pang through both their hearts which no thought of death could have done. De Catnat's head dropped forward upon his chest, and he staggered and would have fallen had Adele not caught him by the arm.

"Do not fear, dear Amory," she whispered. "Other things may happen, but not that, for I swear to you that I shall not survive you."

As they entered the Iroquois village the squaws and warriors had rushed toward them, and they walked through a double line of hideous faces, which jeered and gibed and howled at them as they passed. Their escort led them through this rabble and conducted them to a hut which stood apart.

An instant later an old war chief, accompanied by two younger braves and by the bearded half Dutch Iroquois who had led the attack upon the manor house, strode over and stood in the doorway, looking in at the prisoners. The Bastard was smoking a stone pipe, and yet it was he who talked the most, arguing apparently with one of the younger braves, who seemed to come round at least to his opinion. Finally the old chief said a few short stern words, and the matter appeared to be settled.

"And you, you beldam," said the Bastard in French to the Iroquois woman. "You will have a lesson this night which will teach you to side against your own people!"

"You half bred mongrel," replied the fearless old woman, "you should take that hat from your head when you speak to one in whose veins runs the best blood of the Onondagas. You a warrior—you who, with a thousand at your back, could not make your way into a little house with a few poor husbandmen within it! It is no wonder that your father's people have cast you out!"

The evil face of the Bastard grew livid as he listened to the scornful words which were hissed at him by the captive. He strode across to her, and, taking her hand, he thrust the forefinger into the burning bowl of his pipe. She made no effort to remove it, but sat with a perfectly set face for a minute or more, looking out through the open door at the evening sunlight and the little groups of chattering Indians. He watched her keenly in the hope of hearing a cry or seeing some spasm of agony upon her face, but at last, with a curse, he dashed down her hand and strode from the hut. She thrust her charred finger into her bosom and laughed.

"He is a good for naught!" she cried. "He does not even know how to torture. Now, I could have got a cry out of him. I am sure of it. But you, monsieur, you are very white!"

"It was the sight of such a heathen deed. Ah, if we were but set face to face, I with my sword, he with that weapon he chose, he should pay for it with his heart's blood!"

The Indian woman seemed surprised. "It is strange to me," she said, "that you should think of what befalls me when you are yourself under the same shadow. But our fate will be as I said. You are to die at the stake. She is to be given to the dog who has bit us."

"Adele! Adele! What shall I do?" He tore his hair in his helplessness and distraction.

"No, no, fear not, Amory, for my heart will not fail me. What is the pang of death if it binds us together?" "The younger chief pleaded for you, saying that the Mitche Manitou had stricken you with madness, as could be seen by your swimming to their canoe, and that a blight would fall upon the nation if you were led to the stake. But the Bastard said that love came often like madness among the palefaces and that it was that alone which had driven you. Then it was agreed that you should die and that she should go to his wigwam, since he had led the war party. As for me, their hearts were bitter against me, and I also am to die by the pine splinters."

"When is it to be?" asked De Catnat.

"Now; at once. They have gone to make all ready. But you have time yet, for I am to go first."

"Amory, Amory, could we not die together now?" cried Adele, throwing her arms round her husband. "If it be sin, it is surely a sin which will be forgiven us. Let us go, dear. Let us leave these dreadful people and this cruel world and turn where we shall find peace."

The Indian woman's eyes flashed with satisfaction. "You have spoken well, White Lily," said she. "Why should you wait until it is their pleasure to pluck you? See! Already the glare of their fire beats upon the tree trunks, and you can hear the howlings of those who thirst for your blood. You have said rightly, White Lily. There lies the only path for you."

"But how to take it?"

LOW DEATH RATE FOR YEAR ENDED

Only 436 Succumbed to Disease and Injury

Extended Sewer System, Pure Water, Good Hospital and Sanitary Precautions.

BRING ABOUT THIS RESULT.

Only 436 people died in Paducah in 1906 as compared with 630 in 1900, and 537 in 1905. Mortuary statistics show that the death rate is decreasing steadily and especially in these diseases from which the greatest percentage of fatalities result. City Health Officer Dr. W. T. Graves, will submit his report for 1906 of the number of deaths and the causes, at the next meeting of the board of health, or council.

Since 1900, the death rate in Paducah has decreased markedly, due to a number of causes, among which may be mentioned the activity of the board of health, the improved hospital service, the pure water supply and better sanitary inspection and conditions.

The total number of deaths in Paducah in 1906 from all causes, was 436. In 1900 it was 630. In 1905 it was over a hundred more than in 1906. The total number of deaths includes all deaths from accidents, suicides, poisonings and other sudden and unusual causes. Of the total number of deaths 195 were of negroes.

Seventy-four persons died of consumption in Paducah in 1906, the largest number of deaths from any one cause. Pneumonia comes next with a record of 45 deaths. The phenomenally low record of twelve deaths from typhoid fever is noteworthy. In 1900 there were 50 deaths from typhoid fever. There were 26 still births; 16 deaths from heart disease; 18 deaths from senility; 17 premature births, mostly negroes; 3 from scarlet fever, and 1 from diphtheria.

Contagious Diseases.

In contagious diseases, scarlet fever, diphtheria and smallpox, the city has been extremely fortunate from the practically insignificant death record. Paducah's pure water supply and the general healthful conditions over the city are the explanation, as the low present record has come since these conditions came.

Seven persons committed suicide in Paducah in 1906. Eight persons were killed from railroad accidents. Tetanus claimed two victims, the large numbers of cases during the holidays coming in the report for 1907. Five deaths resulted from gun shot wounds. Three persons were drowned. The remainder of the death list covered a multitude of causes and diseases.

Altogether, 86 causes are specified in the 436 deaths, and the report is three feet long. Every imaginable disease is represented and a variety of accidental causes. The opium habit killed one person, three were burned to death or died from burns, violence killed one, and accidental poisoning added another.

In getting up statistics of the death rate of the city, only deaths from regular and statistical causes are counted. Those deaths occurring from accidents, poisonings, suicides, drowning, murder, burns, drug habits or from violence are exempted along with a large list of diseases. Health Officer Graves estimates that at least 125 out of the total number of deaths, are non-statistical deaths; that is they would not be counted in figuring the legitimate death rate of Paducah.

On that basis of figuring, Paducah with a population of over 25,000, has a proud record in healthful conditions. The death rate from the dread consumption and from scarcely less so, pneumonia, are decreasing at a relatively rapid rate. Epidemics were unknown in the year and with the growing appreciation of the advantages of sanitary conditions, may be expected to show an even better record for 1907.

All the physicians in the city report this month to be thus far, the healthiest January in many years. One of the principal causes of the low death rate has been the efficient service at the city hospital. It is operated on a far higher plane than the ordinary city institution, city patients getting the advantages of the best medical talent in the city. The opening of the new sewer district is expected further to help the sanitary conditions and through them to lower the death rate.

HAVE YOU WEAK LUNGS?

Do You Fear Consumption?

"When we take into consideration the fact that one out of every seven in this climate dies of consumption, is it any wonder that it is feared by the people of Paducah who have weak lungs and chronic colds and coughs?" said our druggist, W. B. McPherson.

"Physicians everywhere have recognized the value of cod liver oil for coughs, colds, bronchitis, consumption and all wasting diseases, but, unfortunately, few could take it and derive any benefit from its use on account of the indigestible oil which it contained."

"We want every person in Paducah to know that Vinol actually contains in a concentrated form all of the body-building, strength-creating elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods' livers, without a drop of oil to upset the stomach and retard its work, and tonic iron added."

"Therefore, wherever old-fashioned cod liver oil or emulsions will do good, Vinol will do far more good. We guarantee Vinol will improve the appetite, strengthen digestion, make rich red blood, create strength, cure chronic coughs and colds, and strengthen weak lungs."

If Vinol fails to give satisfaction to our customers, we return money with our question. W. B. McPherson, Druggist.

NOTE—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Paducah, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

Surety Company Investigate Books of Evansville, Ind., Treasurer.

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 25.—The transfer of $25,000 worth of personal property by John P. Walker, county and city treasurer, to C. M. Abbott, a stockholder in the Federal Union Surety company of Indianapolis, and the fact that this surety company and another company now have men going over the books in the treasurer's office, have given rise to the rumor that there is a shortage in Walker's accounts. This afternoon the county commissioners held a hurried meeting and appointed two experts to go over the records. Mr. Walker, who is the owner of the Evansville baseball team in the Central league, says the investigation will show that his books are all right.

HON. LOUIS HEAD DEMANDS PRIMARY

Will Seek Renomination to General Assembly

Mayor Yeiser, Eugene Graves and John Skelton Are Mentioned as Possibilities.

MAKES RACE ON HIS RECORD

Hon. Louis P. Head, representative to the general assembly from McCracken county, desires a primary and in a letter to Hon. W. A. Berry, county chairman, today makes formal demand for one. Several names are mentioned in connection with the race, besides that of Mr. Head. Mayor Yeiser has been spoken of, but it is known he is not seeking legislative honors. Eugene Graves is another possible candidate and it is understood that John W. Skelton, who ran against Mr. Head the last time will seek the nomination.

Mr. Head's letter follows:

"Dear Mr. Berry: As you are no doubt aware, I am a candidate for the Democratic nomination for representative from McCracken county in the next general assembly, to succeed myself.

"I have been quoted by the newspapers as favoring a primary to choose the nominee for this office, and I desire to express to you, as chairman of the Democratic county committee, my desire that your committee call a primary election to make the choice of the party for representative.

"As a member of the legislature, I did all in my power to promote the interests of my county and the state at large, and as a candidate for reelection, I demand, at the hands of Democrats, the same treatment that I would gladly accord an opponent, i. e., the opportunity to go directly before the people and present my claims to the masses of the party. I am more than willing to submit my candidacy to the Democrats of my county in a primary election, which is conceded to be the fairest and best method of selection.

"An objection may be offered to a primary because of the expense attached thereto. A primary in McCracken county can be held under the law for not exceeding $400, probably less. I am willing to stand my part of the expense of such primary, and I ask at the hands of your committee, and not only on my own behalf, but on behalf of the Democrats of my county, that a primary be called, in order that the Democrats of the county may have an opportunity for individual expression of opinion in this race.

"In all fairness, I do not think a candidate could ask less than this. What the Democrats of the county and the citizens at large desire, is representation. No fairer manner of securing such representation could be found than a legal primary to select the nominee of the dominant party.

"I propose to go before my party and the people solely upon my record, a record of achievement not of promise, and I ask the co-operation of your committee to the end that I may have a fair chance to set forth that record to the Democrats of McCracken county.

"While I do not anticipate opposition, I desire the opportunity, if some opposition should develop, to make my record and my claims clear to the Democrats of my county.

"Such an opportunity would be only fair to any opponent, and I can not see any objection that could be offered to such an arrangement.

"It is the duty of your committee to enact the will of the party of which you are the constituted governing body, and I say that the Democrats at large desire a primary election to nominate a candidate for representative and in conclusion, as a candidate, I ask at your hands, the fulfillment of this demand.

"Call a primary election at your convenience, and let the various candidates submit their claims to this tribunal of the masses, the recognized Democratic method of choosing a nominee.

Yours very truly,
LOUIS P. HEAD."

The Charming Woman.

Is not necessarily one of perfect form and features. Many a plain woman who could never serve as an artist's model, possesses those rare qualities that all the world admires; neatness, clear eyes, clean, smooth skin and that sprightliness of step and action that accompany good health. A physically weak woman is never attractive, not even to herself. Electric Bitters restores weak women; give strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, beautiful complexion. Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

(INCORPORATED BY THE STATE OF NEW YORK. STOCK COMPANY)

JOHN R. HEGEMAN, PRESIDENT

OVER TWO MILLION DOLLARS

Additional Voluntary Contribution to Industrial Policy-holders over and above all obligations expressed or implied in their Policies. A Cash Dividend of $1,000,000 for Whole Life Policies Over Five Years Old. A Mortuary Dividend of $1,000,000 on all 1907 Claims Under Policies Over Five Years Old. Benefits During Second Six Months Increased 100 per cent. Whole Life Policies Over 15 years in force when the insured is 80 years of age paid as Endowments.

CASH DIVIDEND

Repeating its generous action of the last eight years, and doubling the amount of the annual bonus, there has been declared by the Company this year a cash dividend estimated at one million dollars. This dividend has been declared on all Industrial whole Life policies issued prior to January 1, 1903. As has been the Company's practice heretofore, there will be included in these benefits the Whole Life Industrial policies of all those companies whose business has been assumed by the Metropolitan.

A MORTUARY DIVIDEND

has been declared in the Industrial Department, applicable to all death claims incurred during the current year, where policies on the day of death had been in force over five years. The scale of dividends is as follows: Where death occurs after policy has been in force

Over 5 years, a Dividend of 5 per cent. Over 15 years, a Dividend of 15 per cent.
Over 10 years, a Dividend of 10 per cent. Over 20 years, a Dividend of 20 per cent.
Over 25 years, a Dividend of 25 per cent.

For example: A policy for $200, issued on January 11, 1897, matures by death during 1907 on or after January 12th. The policy was in force over ten years, and the Company will pay a Mortuary Dividend of 10 per cent., or $20, the heirs receiving $220, instead of $200, as named in the policy. Or a policy for $300, issued February 7, 1880; death occurs in 1907 on or after February 8th; the policy was in force over twenty-five years, the Company will pay the beneficiary a Mortuary Dividend of 25 per cent. of $300, or $75, making a total of $375.

LIFE POLICIES PAID AS ENDOWMENTS

During the year 1907 any person insured in the Industrial Department of the Metropolitan, who is eighty years of age or over, and who has paid premiums for fifteen years or more on any policy, may receive the face value of his or her policy in cash; or if a full paid-up policy is preferred, in order that the amount of insurance may be available as a burial fund at time of death, the Company will issue a paid-up policy for the face of the policy.

This voluntary conversion of Whole Life policies into Endowments or into fully paid-up insurance is one of the most liberal concessions ever made by any Industrial Insurance Company.

THIS MAKES $12,000,000 DISTRIBUTED VOLUNTARILY AMONG HOLDERS OF INDUSTRIAL POLICIES DURING THE PAST TWELVE YEARS, IN EXCESS OF AMOUNTS CALLED FOR BY THE POLICY CONTRACTS.

INCREASE IN BENEFITS

New Tables with large increases of benefits in Industrial policies have been adopted. The payment of premiums on all new Industrial policies will cease at age of 75. Reductions have been made in the premiums charged for Ordinary policies.

MORAL:--INSURE IN THE METROPOLITAN

Spending Money.

Statistics have been gathered lately to show that we are the richest nation on earth and well we need to be because we are the freest spenders.

It is estimated that $1,000,000 a day is bet during the racing season. A million dollars a month is squandered for peanuts and popcorn. In Chicago $100,000 a week is spent for theater tickets. Two million dollars was spent last year for golf clubs and balls. Twenty-five million dollars is spent in California alone annually by tourists and 50,000 Americans go to Paris each year. But what's the use of money, anyway, if you can't spend it?—Kansas City Times.

No chance for disappointment if you serve Mrs. Austin's Pancakes. All grocers sell it.

The Woman That Rules.

It is not the merely cold or the merely emotional woman who can influence a man's life, but the woman with self-control; which, in its highest form, is self-abnegation.—John here.
